3 Day Yoga Shibir

As a part of Bridge course activity, Yoga Shibir was organized by B.H. Gardi College of Engineering and Technology, from 1st September to 3rd September for all the first year students at the institute campus under the guidance of yoga guru Shrimati Gitaben Jadeja and her team who were the experienced trainers under Baba Ramdev Maharaj. More than 110 students took part in this three days seminar that gave the participants an overview of the role Yoga can play in lifestyle disorders by inculcating a healthy habit thereby a healthy lifestyle. Along with the explanation of each yogasan and their benefits there was a member present on all the three days to demonstrate the yogs so that student could easily follow.

The message conveyed to the students was that the ancient principle of Yoga enhances the health and wellness of the person at all levels: physical, emotional and spiritual. It is based on the holistic approach of an individual, because in order to acquire true health, all aspects of a person must be addressed in total. Students were also told that Yoga is good choice for people with specific health concerns, who want to acquire tools specific to their condition to improve wellness. The students were asked to carry out the yogas and pranayamas regularly but in the proper way. The students were also told the need to integrate traditional healing methods with modern medication and said that yoga often enhances the benefits gained from modern medical treatments while reducing unwanted side effects. There was stress laid on the fact that Yoga was able to cure many diseases like thyroid, cancer, breathing problem and many others. It was also explained that there can be improvement of physiological functions through regular practice of Yoga.

Shrimati Gitaben Jadeja addressed the students continuously for three days telling them that Yoga was a well laid path of disciplined structure to address all the dimensions of human system, i.e. body, breath, mind, intellect and emotion. Every student present at the ground performed the yogas with great enthusiasm and effort. The yogas they performed included simple warm-ups (surya namaskar), breath body movement coordination practices, and static stretching postures, breathing techniques, relaxation and chanting. At the end of the third day, all the students present during this three days expressed their experience at the end of the Shibir and stated they felt relaxed, rejuvenated and calm after the sessions. Token of our love and respect was presented to all the guest honor present on these three days of the camp. Students at the end of the camp gained a lot and added a new perspective to their life.

Below are some of the glimpses of these three days of the camp.
